

GOOD FRIDAY

CELEBRATION OF THE LORD'S PASSION

The priest, clothed in red Mass vestments, approaches the altar together with the ministers. There, they prostrate themselves or kneel. All pray silently for a while.

Then, the priest goes to his chair and immediately says one of the two following prayers.

Prayer

REMINISCERE miseratiónum tuárum, Dómine, et fámulos tuos ætérna protectióne sanctífica, pro quibus Christus, Fílius tuus, per suum cruórem instituit paschále mystérium.

LORD, by shedding his blood for us, your Son, Jesus Christ, established the paschal mystery. In your goodness, make us holy and watch over us always.

Or:

DEUS, qui peccáti vétēris hereditáriam mortem, in qua posteritátis genus omne succēsserat, Christi Fílii tui, Dómini nostri, passióne solvísti, da, ut confórmes eidem facti, sicut imáginem terréni hómīnis natúræ necessitatē portávimus, ita imáginem cæléstis grátiae sanctificatióne portémus.

LORD, by the suffering of Christ your Son you have saved us all from the death we inherited from sinful Adam. By the law of nature we have borne the likeness of his manhood. May the sanctifying power of grace help us to put on the likeness of our Lord in heaven.

VENERATION OF THE CROSS

The priest and ministers carry the cross in procession through the church. At the start of the procession, in the middle of the church, and finally, before the sanctuary, the celebrant raises up the cross and sings:

VI

Cce li- gnum Cru- cis, in quo sa- lus mundi pe- pén- dit.

This is the wood of the cross, on which hung the Saviour of the world.

℟. Come, let us worship.

After each response, all kneel silently for a few moments. The cross is then set up in the place where it is to be venerated. All approach, in order, after the priest and his ministers, to venerate the cross. During this time, the antiphon of the cross is sung, together with the Improperia (Reproaches) or with the hymn of the Cross.

Mic 6: 3

va-tó- ri tu- o.

My people, what have I done to you? How have I offended you? Answer me!

I led you out of Egypt, from slavery to freedom, but you led your Saviour to the cross.

The cantors on each side of the choir alternate in singing the couplets, whereas the Greek and Latin portions of the refrain are alternated between the two sides of the choir.

Holy is God!

Holy and strong!

Holy immortal One, have mercy on us!

Salva-tó-ri tu- o.

For forty years I led you safely through the desert. I fed you with manna from heaven and brought you to a land of plenty ; but you led your Saviour to the cross.

la-tus Salva-tó-ri tu- o.

What more could I have done for you? I planted you as my fairest vine, but you yielded only bitterness: when I was thirsty you gave me vinegar to drink, and you pierced your Savior with a lance.

The following couplets are also sung alternately, by the cantors of the two sides of the choir, while the entire choir sings the refrain Popule meus.

E - go propter te flagel-lá-vi Ægýptum cum primogé-ni-tis su- is : et tu me flagel-lá-tum tra-di-dísti.

For your sake I scourged your captors and their firstborn sons, but you brought your scourges down on me.

Hymn

O faithful Cross, incomparable Tree, the noblest of all ; no forest hath ere put forth the likes of thine own leaves, thy flowers, thy fruits; * Gentle wood with a gentle nail, to support so gentle a burden!

This stanza serves as the refrain. The choir takes it up one time all the way through, and the next time with the last line only, in between the other stanzas which are given by the cantors.

I

1. Sing, O my tongue, of the battle, of the glorious struggle; and over the trophy of the Cross, proclaim the noble triumph; tell how the redeemer of the world won victory through his sacrifice.

2. The Creator looked on sadly as the first man, our forefather, was deceived, and as he fell into the snare of death, taking a bite of a lethal fruit; it was then that God chose this blessed piece of wood to destroy the other tree's curse.

3. Such was the act called for by the economy of our salvation: to outwit the resourceful craftiness of the Traitor and to obtain our remedy from the very weapon with which our enemy struck.

4. And so, when the fulness of that blessed time had come, the Son, the Creator of the world, was sent from the throne of the Father, and having become flesh, he came forth from the womb of a Virgin.

6. When more than thirty years had past, at the end of his earthly life, he willingly gave himself up to the Passion; it was for this that he was born. The Lamb was lifted up onto a cross, offered in sacrifice on wood.

7. Behold the vinegar, the gall, the reed, the spittle, the nails and spear! His precious body is torn open, water and blood rush forth. This great and mighty river washes land, sea, stars – the entire world!

8. Bend thy branches, tallest of trees, relax thy hold on his tightly stretched body; soften up the hardness which nature hath given thee, and present to the body of the Heavenly King a more bearable support.

9. Thou alone hast been worthy to carry the ransom of the world; mankind's ship had gone down beneath the waves, but thou openest the way to our port of rescue. For thou art anointed with the sacred blood which sprung forth from the body of the Lamb.

This hymn always concludes with the following stanza:

Æqua Patri Fi-li-óque, Incl-i-to Pa-rácli-to, Semp-i-

10. Equal and eternal glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Illustrious Paraclete, the Blessed Trinity whose divine grace redeems and conserves us always. Amen.

COMMUNION

The deacon or the priest goes to bring the Blessed Sacrament from the place of reposition to the altar. Upon the invitation of the priest, all say the Pater noster which the priest concludes with the Libera, p. 41. Holy Communion is then distributed in the ordinary manner.

Prayer after Communion

OMNIPOTENS sempitérne De-us, qui nos Christi tui beáta morte et resurrectione reparásti, consérva in nobis opus misericórdiæ tuæ, ut huius mystérii participatíone perpétua devotíone vivámus.

ALmighty and eternal God, you have restored us to life by the triumphant death and resurrection of Christ. Continue this healing work within us. May we who participate in this mystery never cease to serve you.

Then the priest says the following prayer, extending his hands towards the people in sign of blessing.

Conclusion

SUPER pópulum tuum, quæsumus, Dómine, qui mortem Filii tui in spe suæ resurrectionis recóluit, benedíctio copiósa descéndat, indulgéntia véniat, consolátio tribuátur, fides sancta succréscať, redémptio sempitérna firmétur.

LORD, send down your abundant blessing upon your people who have devoutly recalled the death of your Son in the sure hope of the resurrection. Grant them pardon; bring them comfort. May their faith grow stronger and their eternal salvation be assured.
